POISONED LETTERS.

Colonel William McMichael on Saturday, at the League House, was tendered a complimentary banquet in honor of his safe return from San Domingo. A large assemblage of the most prominent Philadelphians was present. At 10 o'clock the table was spread and simple justice was done to the viands displayed. Colonel McMichael, in reply to a call from Colonel Bingham, made a speech in which the following points were embodied:— First, No United States Government official interested in any way in lands, mines, contracts, bonds or property of any kind whatever in the republic of San Domingo. Second, Its soil is at least as fertile as Cuba and Cuba's climate, in view of annexation, are bringing capital to invest there. Third, The people are intelligent, although uneducated, for they know enough to be largely in favor of annexation. Letters were received from distinguished personages, expressing their sorrow for compelled absence on the occasion. —The funeral of Captain Silas Wilson, late of the 2d Regiment, was largely attended yesterday. —The damages for opening Peachin street, Roxborough, amount to $2400, of which amount the city pays $500, and property owners the balance. —Good Samaritan Lodge, I. O. O. F., celebrated its anniversary a few nights since and conferred the degree of Rebecca on seven ladies. —A New York swindler is mailing circulars to this city offering to sell counterfeit money. —William M. Forney was entertained by a party of his newspaper friend at a banquet on Saturday night. —Samuel Schmidt, a saloon-keeper, for trying to corrupt a witness of the United States District Court has been held in bail to answer. —The tax receipts for the last four days of the past week amounted to $1,057,809.95. —The following is the bi-monthly report of the Dispensary of St. Mary's Hospital, Frankford road and Palmer street:—Visits made to Dispensary, 1162; new patients, 503; males, 160; females, 235; children under ten years, 108; accident cases, 31. The nativities of these were as follows:—United States, 252; Ireland, 12; Germany, 55; England, 16; other countries, 7. —A greenhorn, on Saturday night, was decoyed into a gambling saloon near Chestnut street, and lost $165. —The Arkansas impeachment scheme is evidently a failure. —The coal panic is reported to be at an end in New York city. —The ex-members of Congress have nearly all departed from Washington. —The excitement in Utah over the new mining grounds is rapidly increasing. —It is reported that Attorney-General Akerman is soon to retire from his official position. —The Governor of Virginia has signed the bill chartering the Washington and Richmond Railroad. —The impeachment trial of Governor Holden of North Carolina continues to progress but very slowly. —The Louisiana State Fair buildings at New Orleans were burned yesterday, involving a loss of $50,000. Powers' statue of Washington, belonging to the State, was destroyed. —Sheriff Jackson, of Trinity county, California, has been convicted in the United States Circuit Court on a charge of having illegally collected the foreign miners' tax from Chinamen. —Paris is fast resuming its ordinary appearance. —Emperor William is about to return to Prussia. —Paris was evacuated by the Germans on Friday. —Several of the Paris newspapers have resumed publication. —The French soldiers interned in Belgium will soon be released. —The 2d Prussian Army Corps has commenced to march homeward. —All restrictions upon persons passing in and out of Paris have been removed. —The Prussian forces which occupied Paris have withdrawn from behind the Seine. —Serious disturbances have occurred at Angers, several persons being killed and wounded. —Bourbaki's forces now in Switzerland will commence moving back to France on Wednesday. —To-morrow the headquarters of the Emperor and Von Moltke will be removed from Versailles. —A Bordeaux despatch says, upon leaving that city it is probable that the Assembly will meet at Fontainebleau. —It is officially announced that a treaty of commerce between Italy and the United States has just been signed. —Several of the members of the "Radical Left" have gone to Paris, and there is talk that some contemplate resigning. —Prince Frederick Charles has been appointed commander-in-chief of the army of occupation in France, with his headquarters at Rheims. —A royal commission has condemned the British iron-clad Water Witch, and pronounced the iron-clad Hotspur unsuitable for ocean voyages. —Thiers declines to make a treaty of commerce with Germany, on the ground that it is necessary for France to imitate the United States, and restore equilibrium by high tariffs. —Important Declaration of the French Soldiers. —A communication from Leipzig, under date of February 17, has the following:— As already announced, a petition to the National Assembly at Bordeaux is circulating among the French soldiers, in which the captured French soldiers in Germany make the following declarations:—"We will obey the Government which France shall choose; but if our position as soldiers prohibits us from any part in the political struggle we have the right to demand, as citizens, that the Government to which it will be our duty to give our blood shall be the true expression of the will of the country. We have, therefore, the honor to request you to appeal to universal suffrage in order to decide the following two questions:—First, monarchy or republic; second, the name of the monarch or the name of the monarchy being successful. We, beforehand, engage, upon our honor, to submit to the will of the country."

A New and Alarming Venereal Disease. Allied with an alarming piece of intelligence, which has appeared in a medical contemporary, to the effect that a gentleman occupying a most important post in the country has, by his chemical researches, made out a composition which, when used in a letter, has the effect of immediately killing the person who opens the envelope, the London Daily News says:— Not even in the annals of Italian poisoners do we find records of so destructive a device as that hit upon by the gentleman who occupies "a most important post in the country." We sincerely trust, if the appalling news be true, that the ingenious proprietor of the modern "happy despatch" is a person capable of keeping a secret. Otherwise public men would regard the unopened letters on their breakfast-tables with perhaps some apprehension, while certain classes of persons—Irish landlords, for example—might refuse to receive them from the post-man as a halcyon card. Our contemporary vouchers for the acquirements and credibility, as well as the social standing, of the contributor who furnished the statements to which we are referring, and adds that a recent extract from a Canadian newspaper, on the subject, discloses of a person of note, "looks very ugly." He received an anonymous letter, and, while reading it, he fell down insensible, and shortly after expired. It is said the letter contained some poisonous substance.

THE FEMALE MINSTRES.

The Row in Wilmington—Card from the Manager. Mr. C. E. Rollins, manager of Duprez & Benedict's Opera House, publishes a card in the Wilmington Commercial in which he says:— I wish to set myself right before the people of Wilmington in relation to the performance that was to be given by the Female Minstrel at the Institute on February 22. The origin of the row was this:—The orchestra was so drunk that they could not play; but they could not read music. We found at the last minute when the music was placed before them they could not play it, and left. I asked Charlie Gleason to send and tell the people that they could have their tickets or get their money; he said he would, and I went to the door to give out tickets when I saw Mr. Hartleigh on the stage; I did not hear what he said, but saw the rush. I at once started to go to the ladies to get them out, but before I had done so I saw Mr. Hartleigh in my arms, and he said if it had not been for some young men in red shirts (I judge they to be firemen) who said, "Give the man a fair show," and they protected me until I got out of the theatre.
